Virtual Reality will be integral part of an increasingly connected world in the future. We are a Munich-based software start-up that wants to set the standard for tomorrow's Virtual Reality projects. Our happy customers like Porsche, Siemens and Telekom are already embracing this technologic shift. Help us to inspire even more companies by

- » Attracting new customers and developing new markets
- » Presenting our product to customers and supporting them with their projects
- » Creating analyses and presentations for customer meetings and events

What we expect:

- » Ideally first experiences in sales of sophisticated products
- » Skills in acquisition and support of demanding customers
- » Independent, self-motivated, proactive mindset

What we offer:

- » Friendly, international and highly motivated team members
- » High degree of freedom and self-autonomy
- » Attractive working conditions and great experience of working in a successful start-up
